SOCIETY

ONE PHASE OF WAR RELIEF WORK BY PATRIOTIC AND PUBLIC-SPIRITED HONOLULU WOMEN

In another column of today's society news is given an account of what the local branch of the Navy League, Women's Section, is doing in First Aid, Elementary Hygiene and other student work, preparing for a possible call to the colors. This is but one phase of the wide participation of women of Hawaii in various forms of war relief work. The photos above are of scenes during the recent Tag Day for the benefit of the French Red Cross and Fatherless Children of France fund. Tag day netted about $1200. In the pictures above, that on the extreme left above shows a group of society women, leaders in relief work, at the "field headquarters," Odd Fellows building. On the right is one of the workers "tagging" Walter F. Dillingham. Below is another Honolulu, H. N. Betty, being tagged for the benefit of the fund.

For Intending Members

Those who desire to take instruction in Red Cross first aid, or in elementary hygiene and home care of the sick, or both, may communicate with Mrs. William Whitney, secretary of the Hawaii Chapter of the Navy League, Women's Section, at the Hawaiian Opera House. They will then be enrolled to membership in the league and their names forwarded to Mrs. Gerrit Wilner, who will enter them in whichever class is in process of formation.

D. A. R. ENTERTAINED

Aloha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was entertained on Wednesday last at the home of Mrs. Carl Andrews on Wilke street. Twenty-six members and several visiting ladies from far distant chapters were received at the entrance by Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Keller, the assistant hostesses, in the drawing room. Each guest was presented with a tiny American flag by Mrs. Andrews.

April showers made it impossible to stage the entertainment in the picturesque terraced garden as had been planned, but the airy house made a very satisfactory substitute.

As it was the anniversary of Paul Revere's ride, this formed the keynote of the afternoon's program.

After singing America and joining in the Lord's prayer, the necessary business was quickly despatched. All enjoyed listening to a delightful paper on the hero of the day, read by Miss Anne Nexson. The famous poem about the ride closed this paper very appropriately.

A patriotic song written by Mr. Philip Dodge, set to music by Mr. E. A. E. Newcomb, was sung as an unaccompanied duet by Miss Mabel Ruth Schaeffer and Mrs. Jessica Allen Pascoe. By unanimous vote this was adopted as the chapter song, following the example set by the Minneapolis Chapter, which had already done this.

At the close of the program duty refreshments were served in the charming setting of the fern house.

NEWS OF MRS. JACK LONDON

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mather, who visited here two years ago and were the house guests of the late Jack London and Mrs. London, were at Glen Ellen and took Mrs. London with them to the Hotel Del Coronado and to the San Diego Exposition. While there were there Princess David Kawanakoa was lunched with and a happy, reminiscent hour enjoyed. Mrs. London is carrying the splendid Glen Ellen ranch, that was the dream of Jack London, and hopes to make it one of the finest in the world. Mrs. London writes to friends here that even Jack, she knows, would be delighted with all that has been accomplished. Car loads of fine cattle are going to market and acres upon acres of fine hay growing and all of this is being done by Mr. London's sister and Mrs. London, and, as she says, no tribute is better than to keep this splendid enterprise up to standard. Late Mrs. London, to get away from everything, went to the beach and in bloomers and a "palaka" fished and clammed until she was rested.

MRS. HAROLD DILLINGHAM A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Senni was the honor guest at a luncheon given on Tuesday with Mrs. Harold Dillingham as the hostess. A basket of American beauty roses in a rock crystal rose bowl made an attractive centerpiece. Mrs. Dillingham's guests were Mrs. Senni, the honor guest, Madame Melba, Lady Susan Fitzclarence, Miss Grey, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Eleanor Hives-

A SATURDAY EVENING DINNER

Mrs. and Mrs. James D. Dougherty gave an informal dinner on Saturday evening.

Their guests were Mrs. Gladys Bartlett, Mr. Dick Bell, Mr. Arch Brown and Mr. Peacock.

A BREAKFAST AT THE MOANA

Mrs. Gladys Bartlett had as breakfast guests at the Moana on Monday morning: Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. James Dougherty and Mrs. Harford. The party morning is a delightful hour to entertain friends, for it is always cool, and after breakfast one might for an hour or more and be thus ready to go on to the luncheon engagement. With very beautiful mornings, it is establishing that breakfasts are not "vogue" absolutely.

MRS. FRANK RICHARDSON A HOSTESS

Mrs. Harriet Becker was the guest of honor at a charming bridge tea on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Becker's sister, Mrs. Frank Richardson, was the hostess. About thirty friends were assembled and a jolly afternoon resulted.

MR. AND MRS. GRAVES GIVE A DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Graves, who have been guests at the Colonial for the winter, entertained with an informal dinner on Wednesday evening. A basket filled with pink and white candy tuff made a dainty centerpiece.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurlch, Mr. and Mrs. George Bustard, Mr. V. Morant and Mrs. John Kuey. Dancing was the diversion after dinner.

A DINNER AT THE COLONIAL HOTEL

The Colonial Hotel was the setting for a very pretty dinner on Friday evening, over which Mr. and Mrs. Graves presided as host and hostess.

A basket of yellow lilies made a pretty centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves' guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denison, Mr. and Mrs. William Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Butler.

MRS. L. TENNEY PECK A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Miss Marie von Holt and Miss Mary Moore were the honored guests at a luncheon this week at Lanikai, over which Mrs. L. Tenney Peck presided as hostess.

A great black jar held vari-colored nasturtiums. The name cards were hand painted and represented some pretty blossom.

Social visiting helped to pass a most pleasant hour after luncheon. Mrs. Tenney Peck's guests were Miss Marie von Holt, Miss Mary Moore, the honor guests, Mrs. William A. Love, Miss Margaret Hopper, Mrs. Mason F. Prosser, Mrs. William R. Castle, Benjamin F. Dillingham, Mrs. Harry Baldwin, Mrs. Frederick A. Schaefer, Mrs. Walter Emory, Mrs. E. W. Jordan, Mrs. Royal D. Mead, Mrs. Thomas V. King, Mrs. Howard Hitchcock and Mrs. A. Newton Locke.

DR. AND MRS. CHARLES ADAMS HONOR MADAME MELBA

Madame Melba was the motif for an elaborate and charming Chinese dinner given on Monday evening by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Adams. This affair was, as are all the functions given by the Adamses, marked by sincere hospitality and perfection of detail.

After dinner a Chinese opera was a rare treat and most enjoyable, being very capably rendered by several Chinese singers and actors. The table was done entirely in Chinese decorations, flowers, dishes, even the dwarfed trees were oriental. Dr. and Mrs. Adams' guests were

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE CUNHA'S CHOWDER SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cunha gave a delightful chowder supper last Saturday evening. The guests were seated around a table attractive with a woody brown basket, which held a mass of flaming red hibiscus, and red-shaded lighted candles made a pretty effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunha's guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Doyette, Mrs. Rivers, Miss Rivers, Miss Charlotte Dowsett, Mr. C. M. Stoddard of Los Angeles, Dr. White and Mr. P. M. Boyle. Dancing finished the informal evening.

MR. AND MRS. SUMNER S. PAXSON'S GARDEN PARTY

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Sumner S. Paxson are giving a garden party. Refreshments will be served beneath the vine-covered pergola, which is such an attractive feature of their pretty home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paxson's guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas, Sr. and Mrs. David Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Guild, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Harriet Lucas, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Violet Maize, Miss Abbie Lucas, Mr. Walter Love and Mr. Robert McCorriston.

MRS. WALTER DILLINGHAM A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Miss Anderson, who has been the house guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Anderson, was the motif for a very charming luncheon on Friday of this week over which Mrs. Walter Dillingham presided as hostess.

The table was snowy white in every detail. Pure white china with floral dishes were used, white violets and white sweet peas were employed to ornament the table center. A white tulip butterfly bow further enhanced the table. A pleasant hour after luncheon was enjoyed in "just waiting" and the over present, knitting came out, for no function, great or small, early or late, is complete without the click of knitting needles.

Mrs. Dillingham's guests were Miss Anderson, for whom this charming affair was arranged, Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. Mason F. Prosser, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Arthur G. Smith, Mrs. Fred Ohrt, Mrs. William A. Love, Mrs. James Cockburn, Miss Joeline, and Miss Larkin.

MRS. JAMES D. DOUGHERTY HONORS MRS. H. BECKER

Mrs. Harriet Becker, who has been in Honolulu for the past few months at the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, was the guest of honor at a luncheon on Tuesday of this week given by Mrs. James D. Dougherty.

A basket of bright hood golden cornucopias made a pretty centerpiece. After luncheon bridge was the diversion for the afternoon. Mrs. Dougherty's guests were Mrs. Harriet Becker, the guest of honor, Mrs. Franklin E. Richardson, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. Arthur G. Hodgins, Mrs. Albert Afton, Mrs. William Williamson, Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer and Mrs. Harry Hoffman.

MRS. A. S. CONNINGHAM'S BRIDGE TEA

Mrs. H. A. Hines of San Francisco was the guest of honor this week at a three-table bridge at which Mrs. A. S. Conningham presided as hostess. Several interesting rubbers were played and a pleasant hour enjoyed while refreshments were served.
